"Isuma"

Monday, November 3, 2008

7:30-9:00 PM

St. John's College Fairmont Social Lounge
2111 Lower Mall, UBC

St. John's College is delighted to host Harry Aoki (bass and harmonica) for a public performance followed by discussion. "Isuma" is an Inuit concept meaning "mindfulness", especially of the individual's responsibility towards the social relationships that make us human. Parallels will be explored across societies and languages in order to consider the implications of Isuma for contemporary and future societies around the world.

Harry Aoki has long played a leading role in bringing musical cultures together. In addition to his regular band, Mr. Aoki will be joined by African percussionist Themba Tana, and award-winning Métis fiddler Cary Grigg. The discussion portion of the evening will be led by Dr. Jan Walls, Professor Emeritus at Simon Fraser University, where he was the founding director of the David Lam Centre for International Communication. For more information about this event, please contact Prof. Chris Lee (chrisml@interchange.ubc.ca).

Join us for dinner before the performance ($10.50 for students and $14.00 regular)! Tickets can be purchased in the Administration Office at St. John's College. Please contact Stacy at 822-8781 or sjc.events@ubc.ca to make your dinner reservation and/or for more information.
