MISSION STATEMENT

St. John's College is a residential college for graduate students, postdoctoral fellows, and visiting scholars from around the world who study and teach at the University of British Columbia. We seek to inspire a global vision and foster a spirit of community among our residents and alumni through multicultural education, intercultural understanding, and international exchange. We cultivate lasting friendships across diverse backgrounds by dining together and creating a home away from home. We aspire to create an atmosphere of social and intellectual engagement through dialogues, lectures, workshops, and other activities. We are committed to enriching the intellectual and cultural life of the University, as well as welcoming and engaging with off-campus communities. We strive to embody the traditions of academic excellence and public service inherited from our founders, the alumni of St. John's University Shanghai.

Our mission statement has been translated into 11 languages by our residents and they are posted on our website. If you would like to help translate our mission statement into a language not listed below, please contact our Acting Principal, Dr. Chris Lee chris.lee@ubc.ca.

PRINCIPAL'S WELCOME

Dear Fellows,

Welcome to St. John's College!

For those of you setting foot in SJC for the first time, you are joining a proud tradition of academic excellence and inter-cultural understanding that was the hallmark of our founders, the alumni of St. John's University in Shanghai. Considered one of the best institutions of higher learning in China until it closed in 1952, its reputation for bringing the best of Eastern and Western learning together is reflected in the tremendous contributions and achievements of its alumni, known as the Johanneans. Some of the leading scholars, businessmen, educators, and public servants of our time have been Johanneans and here in Vancouver, the local chapter of the St. John's University Alumni Association continues to take a great interest in our College. I hope that every one of you will have an opportunity to interact with our Johannean founders during your stay.

Last year, SJC was gifted a Chinese motto by our Johannean Founders: 薈東西精英 臻世界大同, which translates to "Gathering the Talents of East and West, for the cultivation of World Peace and Unity." This year marks the nineteenth year since SJC admitted its first residents. Since then, we have been a "home away from home" for graduate students, postdoctoral fellows, and visiting scholars from over forty countries, with most residents coming from outside Canada. This diversity has long been the greatest strength of our community. Residents take an active role in sharing their experiences and expertise with each other in formal and informal ways. For this reason, we place great value on our daily meals together – so much so that we have adopted as our English motto "The World Around Our Table." This year, we will also be organizing a series of events to address two topics of global importance: biodiversity and ecojustice, and the displacement of refugees worldwide. I look forward to seeing many of you at these and other events and hearing your ideas. I will also have regular office hours during the school year and invite you to drop by and share what's on your mind.

As Acting Principal, I am privileged to work with a top-notch staff to ensure that this is a nurturing and welcoming place for all residents and guests. My wish is that your time at SJC is truly transformative – that you will depart from our community with more knowledge, experience, and wisdom than when you first came, and that you will carry on the Johannean spirit of “Light and Truth” to your next destination. I hope that the friends you meet here will last a lifetime, and that you will look back on your time here as some of the best years of your life.

With best wishes,

Dr. Chris Lee

Acting Principal, St. John's College
Associate Professor of English

A WELCOME MESSAGE FROM JOHANNEAN T. F. YING

My name is Ying Tao Fu, an original Johannean, class of 1943 in Economics, and MBA, class of 1944. St. John's College is now 15 years old. As an offspring of St. John's University, Shanghai (1869-1952), SJC has fulfilled her responsibility in carrying on the St. John's tradition and St. John's spirit. This is very important to us, the original Johanneans--the youngest ones are in their late 70's. I was born in October 1922. So next month I am 89 years old. In Chinese tradition, I am 90, as we are one year old the day we are born. There you can see how different the Chinese and Western cultures are. St. John's University, Shanghai, was the first school in China where all classes were conducted in English, except Chinese courses. Its bi-cultural education was well balanced. To talk about the two cultures is too huge a task. So I will just talk about the school mottos of St. John's. In English it is "Light and Truth," which signifies Western values from its Christian missionary founders. In Chinese it is a quotation from the "Confucius Analects," which translated into English says: "Learning without thought is labor lost; thought without learning is perilous."

Let me tell you my own story. I am proud to be a "triple" Johannean. In 1934, I entered St. John's YMCA School, then Middle School, and then SJU until I graduated in 1944. Before I entered St. John's YMCA, when I was 5 years old, my father hired a private tutor to teach me Chinese, first by learning the characters, and writing the characters by brush pen with ink made from rubbing the ink stick on the ink stone with a little water. This went on for two years, and after I had learned about a thousand characters, then I started reading, primarily "Three Words Classics (三字經)," "Hundred Family Names (百家姓)," and then the more advanced "Four Books (四書)" and "Five Classics (五經)," all by memorizing and reciting. I could recite, but not necessarily know the true meaning. That's where the Confucius quotation came in—"Learning without thought is labor lost; thought without learning is perilous." In St. John's University, Shanghai, the students not only learn, but also think. That's the big advantage of bicultural education. St. John's University made tremendous contributions to education in China that balances Chinese and Western values.

The world may change as time goes by. Educational systems may change too, but the basic principle is always there. Our beloved Dr. Pott, who was President of St. John's University, Shanghai for 52 years said that the value of an educational institution should only be judged by the quality of the students it produced. SJC has the cream of UBC, who are also successors to the St. John's tradition and spirit. Yes, you are valuable! You are the Johannean dream realized. Thanks.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE

ST. JOHN'S UNIVERSITY (1879-1952): INSPIRATION BEHIND ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE

St. John's College is part of a proud heritage, which dates back to the famed St. John's University in Shanghai, China (SJU). Founded by American Anglican missionaries in 1879, SJU was one of the most prestigious post-secondary institutions in China during the first half of the 20th century. Often regarded as the Harvard or Yale of the country at the time, it was both a trail blazer in the development of higher learning in China and a facilitator of cultural exchange between China and the world. SJU introduced the American liberal arts model of education to the country and was the first in China to offer programs in psychology, journalism, business, and graduate degrees. The university was also the first post-secondary institution in China to include modern sports activities in its learning. It sent athletes to the first Asian Games and founded the earliest professional soccer and basketball teams in China. SJU also encouraged student self-management and started China's first student associations and publications.

Curriculum at the university was based on a Christian core, but also promoted, in the liberal arts tradition, a free spirit of learning in which students selected most of their courses out of interest and were encouraged to study a broad range of subjects. The university used English as its pedagogical language, which enhanced the ability of students to communicate with the wider world. The university was also registered as a university in the US rather than China, making its degrees recognized by academic institutions abroad and encouraging overseas study among its graduates. It, however, also taught respect for China's Confucian heritage and placed learning it on equal terms with Christianity and other knowledge. SJU excelled in this progressive outlook until political circumstances in China forced the closing of the institution in 1952.

JOHANNEANS: A LEGACY OF ST. JOHN'S UNIVERSITY

A university with high admission standards, SJU produced some of the most prominent figures in modern China. Among these were diplomat Wellington Koo, who represented China in the 1919 Versailles Peace Conference; Rong Yiren, China's first billionaire during the reform period; Lu Ping, who handled Hong Kong's transfer to China in 1997; I. M. Pei, a master of architecture; and producer Raymond Chow, who successfully launched Hong Kong martial arts cinema into the international stage during the 1970s. Education at SJU blended the creativity of liberal arts education with a Christian and Confucian derived spirit of self-discipline, hard work and public service. Following in this path, SJU graduates, calling themselves Johanneans, have brought fame to China and the larger global Chinese community throughout the 20th and 21st centuries, and were a crucial force in building ties between the China, Chinese culture and the wider world.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE: A GIFT FROM JOHANNEANS (1997 -)

Johanneans have tried to keep alive the traditions of their alma mater following its closure by forming an alumni network with chapters around the world. They also funded the establishment of academic institutions that would bear the name of St. John's and embody the cross cultural learning and academic excellence of the original university. St. John's College (SJC) is one of three establishments around the world formed through their efforts. Created through the cooperation between global Johanneans and the University of British Columbia, St. John's College was founded in 1997. Unlike its predecessor, SJC is not a religiously affiliated teaching facility. It, however, carries on the liberal arts tradition and cultural exchange of SJU by serving as a forum for communication and bond building between people of different cultural and academic backgrounds. The College is home to UBC graduate students, post-doctoral fellows, and visiting graduate students and faculty from around the world. SJC also sponsors a variety of academic events, both at the College and with UBC and community partners. Its goal through this is to bring together learned minds that span the different academic and national divides and to enrich and broaden their understanding through participation in College activities and living with those different from themselves. SJC aims to produce a new generation of Johanneans who will bring achievement and service to their home communities and work towards the larger cause of global cooperation.

She also handles publicity for College events and manages the content of the digital signage in the College. Residents may submit items for the digital signage by completing the online submission form available on the SJC website under resident resources.

The College also maintains several mailing lists (list-servs). There are two types of mailing lists: opt-out and non-opt-out, and all new residents are added to both sets of lists. The SJC staff, SJC committee chairs, and SJC Hosts use non-opt-out lists to communicate information on official College events, programs, etc.

WHEN YOU DISCOVER A FIRE IN THE BUILDING:

- Leave the fire area immediately
- Sound the fire alarm by activating the nearest red fire alarm pull station
- Learn where the nearest pull station is located and how to activate it
- Call the Fire Department, dial 9-1-1 from a safe location and give address:

Depending on which part of the building you are in, the address may be:

St. John's College, East Building, 2111 Lower Mall, Vancouver BC, UBC Campus or

St. John's College, West Building, 6620 North West Marine Drive, Vancouver BC, UBC Campus

- Close doors behind you while leaving the building via the nearest safe fire exit. Know the location of the two exits closest to your area. Count the number of doors between you and each of those exits – in case you must escape through a darkened, smoke-filled corridor where you can't read the names on the doors.
- Remain calm and assist others
- Proceed directly to the designated assembly area – on the street outside the main entrance to the East on Lower Mall and University Blvd.
- If the fire is small enough and at your discretion (safety first) attempt to extinguish the small fire with available portable fire extinguisher

IF YOU HEAR THE FIRE ALARM:

- Check your areas for signs of fire
- Evacuate the building via the nearest safe fire exit
- Close doors behind you while leaving the building
- Remain calm and assist others
- Proceed directly to the designated assembly and report to the Fire Safety Director

DO NOT RE-ENTER THE BUILDING FOR ANY REASON until you have been advised to do so by the Fire Department or the Fire Safety Director.

GENERAL INFORMATION:

While exiting, walk, and do not run. Shut all doors behind you and alert those who have difficulty hearing that an emergency evacuation of the building is underway. Proceed along corridors and through exits in a quiet and orderly manner.

High-heeled shoes are hazardous while proceeding down stairs, and it is advisable to remove them before entering the stairwell. Do not push or jostle.

Prepare to help persons who requiring assistance to reach the nearest safe exit, if it is safe to do so.

When you have reached the outside of the building, move away from the doorway to allow others behind you to emerge from the exit and proceed to the assembly area.

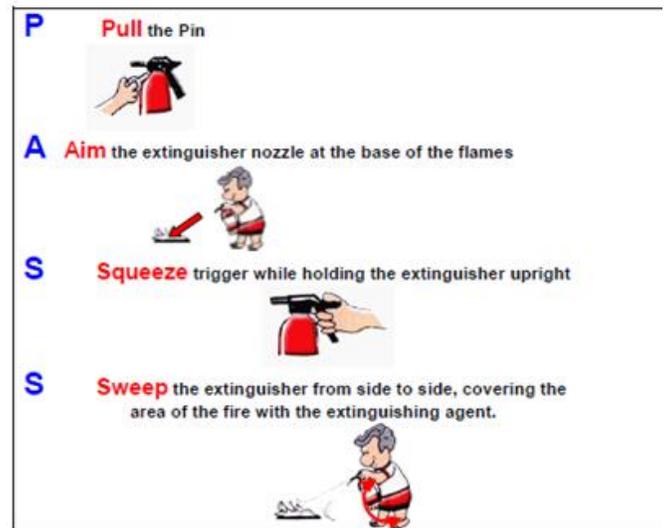

DO NOT USE THE ELEVATORS

PORTABLE FIRE EXTINGUISHERS:

Portable fire extinguishers are useful only if you know how to use them, if they are right for the type of fire you are fighting, and if the fire is discovered immediately. You must not attempt to fight even a small fire until people have been evacuated from the area and the Fire Department has been called.

Never attempt to fight a fire if any of the following is true:

- You are uncertain about how to use the extinguisher
- The fire is spreading beyond the immediate area where it started
- The fire could block your escape route
- You are alone

HOW TO USE THE MULTI-PURPOSE DRY CHEMICAL TYPE FIRE EXTINGUISHER

Remember the word: PASS

P Pull the Pin

A Aim the extinguisher nozzle at the base of the flames

S Squeeze trigger while holding the extinguisher upright

S Sweep the extinguisher from side to side, covering the area of the fire with the extinguishing agent.

SECURITY

Everyone can help ensure the security of the College by being aware of persons in or around the premises who are not familiar and by not allowing individuals who are unknown to follow you into the building or enter the building as you are leaving. A polite enquiry regarding the nature of an individual's business at the College is always appropriate. However, never jeopardize your own safety; if you see a suspicious person who in any way makes you feel uncomfortable or unsafe, call Campus Security immediately and directly at 604-822-2222. They are more than willing to come out at any time to check out the situation. Alternatively, you can call 911 and ask for the UBC RCMP detachment.

Remember that the best way to ensure your security and the security of your belongings is to lock your room door, even if you are in the room, have just gone to do laundry or left your room for a short time for some other purpose.

For more information on personal security at UBC, see <http://security.ubc.ca/content/personal-security> There are a number of resources available for residents on campus at night:

- AMS Safewalk Program – see <http://www.ams.ubc.ca/services/safewalk/>
- Campus Blue Phones – see <http://security.ubc.ca/content/campus-blue-phones>
- Translink community shuttles – see <http://www.translink.ca/>

EARTHQUAKE

During an earthquake:

- Drop to the floor, cover your head and hold onto something solid under a table or desk, between rows of seats or against an inside wall.
- Wait for the shaking to stop and count to 60, to allow time for debris to fall, before moving.
- If you're outside, stay outside. If you're inside, stay inside, unless there is a fire or the building is in danger of collapsing.
- If you're in a moving vehicle, stop in a clear area, away from falling debris, and stay inside the vehicle.

After an earthquake:

- Apply first aid as required.
- Do not make phone calls unless they are lifesaving, as networks will be overwhelmed.
- Listen to the radio or TV for emergency updates.
- Avoid entering damaged buildings.
- Expect aftershocks and power outages.

EMERGENCY KITS

Everyone who lives in residence should have an emergency kit. They are available to purchase at the SJC Administration Office. Or use these tips to pack your own:

- Make it easy to carry and easy to grab quickly. A backpack or light gym bag are ideal.
- Include two litres of water per person, per day, for 72 hours.
- Pack food that won't spoil, such as canned food, energy bars and dried foods. Remember to replace food and water once a year.
- Pack a manual can opener, flashlight and batteries, battery-powered or wind-up radio, extra batteries, spare keys, and a first aid kit.
- Include special-needs items, if necessary, such as prescription medications, toiletries, equipment for people with disabilities, glasses or contact lenses.
- Don't forget cash, especially smaller bills and coins, for use in pay phones or vending machines.
- Make sure you have contact information handy for people you will need to get in touch with, like relatives in and out of town.

COMMUNITY LIVING

COMMUNITY STANDARDS

Appendix II of the Residence Contract outlines additional College Policies, rules, and regulations which relate to community standards.

NOISE

Please be quiet in the corridors at night and in the morning – noise travels easily through the doors. Be conscious of TV and stereo volumes at all times, but particularly at night or in the morning. Be considerate of neighbours when having visitors in your residence room.

There are ongoing construction, renovation and maintenance projects in the vicinity of the College, and there may be noise, dust and temporary interruption of some services from time to time.

St. John's College is a community of graduate students, post-doctoral fellows, visiting scholars, and other members of the University who share the scholarly objectives of advanced international study and academic excellence. The community is a diverse one, with members coming from many backgrounds, and having different interests, concerns, opinions, and personal and cultural values.

As a part of a multicultural community it is essential for every resident of St. John's College to promote and maintain an atmosphere of respect for all residents. It is important to be aware of and sensitive to cultural and personal differences. Discrimination or harassment of any sort is not tolerated within a community such as St John's, whose residents are continuously in close contact.

Individuals within the community have the right to live in an environment where every other individual respects their personal possessions and communal space. They have the right to live in an environment of respect and consideration. This includes respect for one another's feelings, personal needs, personal possessions, and for communal space.

By accepting a Residence Contract, members of the community agree to contribute to the maintenance of an environment that is beneficial towards graduate studies, intercultural, intellectual and social exchange, and a quiet enjoyment of privacy.

The University of British Columbia envisions a climate in which students, faculty and staff are provided with the best possible conditions for learning, researching and working, including an environment that is dedicated to excellence, equity and mutual respect. The University of British Columbia strives to realize this vision by establishing employment and educational practices that respect the dignity of individuals and make it possible for everyone to live, work, and study in a positive and supportive environment, free from harmful behaviours such as bullying and harassment.

The best possible environment for working, learning, and living is one in which respect, civility, diversity, opportunity, and inclusion are valued. Everyone at the University of British Columbia is expected to conduct themselves in a manner that upholds these principles in all communication and interactions with fellow UBC community members and the public in all University-related settings.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE DINING SOCIETY

ABOUT THE SOCIETY

The purpose of the St. John's College Dining Society, incorporated under the Society Act of British Columbia, is to govern the meal plan for the members of St. John's College. All resident members of the College are also members of the Dining Society and are entitled, upon request, to a copy of the constitution and bylaws. This document informs residents of St. John's College about the policies that have been established on their behalf by the SJC Dining Society Board of Directors. These policies are subject to change. Input from residents is encouraged and appreciated. There is also a suggestion box located in the dining hall.

DINING SOCIETY BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Dining Society Board of Directors consists of residents of the College, the Principal, Acting Principal, and the Assistant Principal Administration and Development. Anyone wishing to become a member of the Board of Directors should contact a current director and/or put his/her name forward at the Annual General Meeting in the spring of each year. Anyone wishing to attend a directors' meeting is welcome, provided they inform the directors of their intent to do so, and any items they wish added for discussion will be included on the agenda.

MEAL PLAN

The Dining Society provides residents with ten meals per week. Breakfast is served Monday through Friday, 7:30 - 9:30 am, and includes a daily selection of hot items, fresh baked goods, cereal, yogurt, cottage cheese, and hot and cold beverages. Dinner is served Sunday through Thursday, 6:15 - 7:45 pm and includes a vegetarian or non-vegetarian entrée, vegetables, salad bar, fresh baked goods, dessert, and hot and cold beverages. The Dining Hall is licensed and beer and wine may be purchased with dinner. Extended hours may be offered during the summer months.

MISSED MEALS AND CREDIT VOUCHERS

If you cannot come to the Dining Hall during dinner hours, you have several options.

If you wish to eat your dinner later, you can ask another resident to pick up your dinner. Be sure to give the kitchen staff one or two food containers labeled with your name and room number before 4 pm on the day you will be missing dinner. One container is needed for the main meal; please provide a second container if you want salad as well. For your safety, your meal should be refrigerated immediately after pickup!

If you are unable to locate a fellow resident to perform this task for you, you may call the kitchen to make other arrangements. Please bear in mind, however, that kitchen staff is busy and it may not be possible to accommodate your request.

You may request a credit voucher for a missed dinner. Vouchers must be requested no later than 2:00 pm on the business day prior to the day you will be missing dinner. (When requesting vouchers for Sunday or Monday dinner, please remember that the previous business day is Friday.) Credit vouchers are not issued for missed breakfasts. Credit voucher application forms are available in the mailbox room, Dining Hall, and SJC Administration Office. Credit vouchers expire one year after the date issued.

MEAL PLAN MAINTENANCE

If you will be away from the College for two consecutive weeks or more within one calendar month, you may request the option of paying only the maintenance portion of the meal plan fee. You are exempted from the food cost portion of the fee and pay only the Dining Society's labour costs for the month. The amount of the maintenance fee is reviewed periodically and is determined by the Dining Society. The meal plan maintenance fee is subject to GST. You must submit your request for maintenance at least one week prior to the beginning of the month in which you will be away, stating clearly the dates you will be physically absent from the college.

If you choose the maintenance option, you are not eligible to eat any breakfasts or dinners in the Dining Hall on any days when you are in the College during that particular month. You must use meal tickets or credit vouchers for breakfast and dinner. You must also make reservations for dinner no later than 2:00 p.m. on the business day prior to the day.
